Indicative of namesake the Able family of tables are an essential and lasting collection for the exterior environment. The combination of refined design detail with excellent material construction define the rectilinear series.

Following the table perimeter a thin beveled edge adds visual lightness, while the tapered cast aluminum legs denote strength and rigidity. Configured as a dining table the spacing of the wood slats create small gaps that allow for water drainage. A similar detail is repeated in the occasional and low tables whereas diminutive linear slits perforate the Polaris surface.
